Immediately following the AGM, FGV held its EGM, attended by 934 shareholders and proxies, also in person and via virtual platforms, where shareholders approved the Group's proposed acquisition of the remaining equity interests in eight subsidiaries from Koperasi Permodalan FELDA Malaysia Berhad (KPF) for a total consideration of RM229.8 million.

Under the resolution, FGV Palm Industries Sdn. Bhd. (FGVPI), a 72 percent owned indirect subsidiary of FGV, will acquire the remaining equity interests in three of its non-wholly owned subsidiaries from KPF for a total consideration of RM54.7 million. In parallel, FELDA Holdings Bhd (FHB), a wholly-owned subsidiary of FGV, will acquire the remaining equity interests in five of its non-wholly owned subsidiaries, also from KPF, for a total of RM175.1 million.

This strategic exercise aims to consolidate FGV's corporate structure, enhance decision-making agility, and ensure tighter alignment with the Group's strategic priorities. With full ownership, FGV will be better equipped to drive performance and accelerate execution across its core businesses.

Solid Financial Results and Operational Milestones in FY2024

For the financial year ended 31 December 2024 (FY2024), FGV reported revenue of RM22.16 billion — a 14 percent increase from the previous year — and a profit after tax and minority interest (PATAMI) of RM276 million, driven by operational efficiencies, improved margins, and a turnaround in the sugar segment.

Key operational highlights of the year included progress under the Plantation Transformation Plan, improved fresh fruit bunch (FFB) yields, and increased production of high-value, sustainable products. Among the initiatives were the launch of 23 new stock-keeping units (SKUs), the introduction of the Yangambi Platinum high-yield clonal planting material, commissioning of the Fract750 premium refinery at Kuantan Port, and the deployment of automation technologies such as unmanned weighbridges and automated tank gauging systems.

FGV also strengthened its social commitments, including reimbursing recruitment fees to 1,164 former migrant workers and launching Projek Rintis: Plantation Technician (Harvesting Specialist) to upskill local youth.

“2024 was a year of strong operational progress and meaningful transformation for the Group. Despite global economic headwinds, geopolitical uncertainties, and environmental challenges, FGV remained resilient and agile, emerging stronger and more focused, turning challenges into opportunities,” said Tan Sri Rastam.

Sharpening Focus for Future Resilience and Growth

With the successful conclusion of both meetings, FGV reaffirms its commitment to strengthening its fundamentals, accelerating transformation, and delivering sustainable value to its shareholders.

Looking ahead, Fakhrunniam Othman, Group Chief Executive Officer, said, “As we navigate an increasingly unpredictable global landscape shaped by trade tensions and market volatility, we remain vigilant. While early signs of recovery in commodity prices are emerging, the outlook remains cautious. That is why we are sharpening our focus on driving operational excellence, strengthening stakeholder partnerships, expanding into high-value products, and leveraging advanced technologies to ensure FGV remains resilient and future-ready.”
